

EVASON

HUA HIN

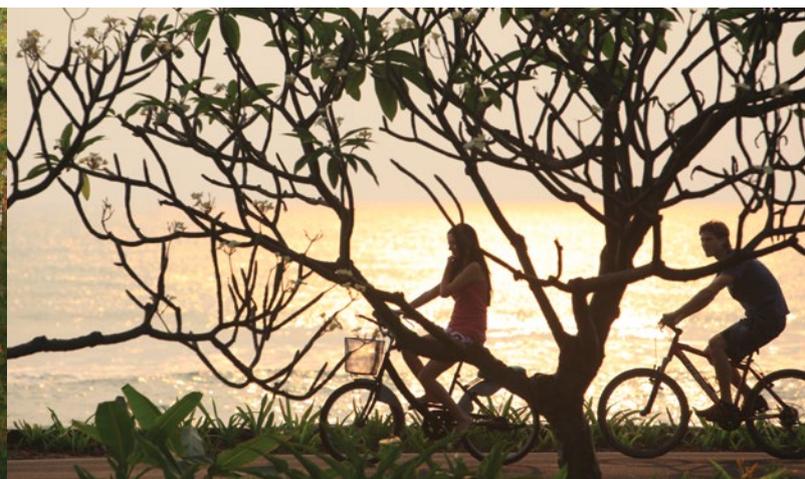

EVASON HUA HIN, THAILAND

Evason Hua Hin is a three-hour drive south of Bangkok. King Rama VII built a palace there in 1926 and it remains the Thai Royal Family Summer Palace to this day.

Located in the quiet area of Pranburi, 15 miles (25 kilometers) south of Hua Hin township and facing the Gulf of Siam, Evason Hua Hin is set on 20 acres (8 hectares) of tropical gardens and water features. The resort offers couples and families alike, a true escape from the rush of the modern world.

Evason Hua Hin offers an authentic, personal and sustainable experience in harmony with its surroundings. The resort adapts seamlessly to local cultures in an environment that evokes well-being, supported by outstanding anticipative services and attention to detail.
